New beading techniques and GMOs

Secretary Etchevehere raised the concern regarding the recent ruling of the ECJ re new breeding techniques, as this may negatively impact the trade. ARG will suggest to include this topics for the next ARG-EU dialogue on agriculture. Commissioner Andriukaitis replied that the Commission is proceeding with all the applications which the European Food Safety Authority concluded to be safe and that there was a significant progress since the last EU-Argentina Bilateral Dialogue meeting of October 2017. As to the question on new breeding techniques, he informed that the Court of Justice of the EU in July provided clarifications on the scope of application of the GMO legislation in relation to organisms obtained by mutagenesis techniques. According to the Court ruling, the GMO legislation is applicable to organisms obtained by these techniques. The Commission is now analysing the ruling to ensure its proper implementation.
